

2024 Educator Excellence Award Winner

Zachary Choby
Saint Vincent College

Zachary Choby is a current senior at Saint Vincent College and is student teaching at Derry Area High School in Derry, Pennsylvania. In May of 2024, he will graduate with a B.S. in mathematics with a Secondary Education Certification and is looking to continue his math education through a PhD program. Zachary loves to take unique opportunities to work with and teach his students outside of school, including tutoring, academic summer camps for underrepresented groups in STEM fields, and sessions for enriching students in topics within math that are frequently overlooked. Zachary hopes to convey his love for math, education, and school to all his students, with his goal being to change the lives of future generations of kids for the better!
